APPLICATION FOR BEER LICENSE

Public notice is hereby given that the undersigned intends to apply to The Alberta Liquor Control Board for a License to Sell Beer by the glass or open bottle, for consumption on the licensed portion of the premises, and also to sell Beer by the unopened bottle for consumption elsewhere than upon the licensed premises, in conformity with the provisions of The Government Liquor Control Act of Alberta, and the Regulations made thereunder, with respect to the following described premises:

Dated at Frank, Alberta, this 1st day of November, 1944.
STEVE BOBROSKY,
Applicant.

REMEMBRANCE DAY OBSERVED

There was a large turnout of people at the Orpheum theatre on Saturday forenoon for the Remembrance Day service, including members of the Legion, the IOOE and Cadets.
The chair was occupied by Comrade R. W. H. Pinkney; the devotional exercises were administered by Rev. J. McKelvey, while the main address was delivered by Mr. John Shevels, of Bellevue.

Following the sounding of the Last Post, the gathering proceeded to the cenotaph, where a spray was deposited and the usual service held.

HOSPITAL STAFF MAY NOW BE HIRED DIRECTLY

Professional and non-professional workers for hospitals may now be hired directly without passing through local employment and selective service offices, states Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labor.

In order to help meet the extreme need for hospital staff, this change in the method of recruiting workers has been granted hospital authorities to accommodate what threatens to be a very serious shortage of workers.

Male or female applicants may apply directly to hospitals for interview and be hired, without selective service permits, as formerly, although the necessary permits will be made out by the hospital authorities.

Local employment offices will continue to secure help for hospitals, and will also be kept advised of all placements made directly.

Instructions have gone out from Ottawa to the employment offices that the change procedure becomes effective at once.

APPEAL TO BLOOD DONORS

The Blairmore-Frank Red Cross needs 150 blood donors, ages 18 to 60. The mobile clinic will be here on December 7th, and arrangements have been made to use the BESI clubroom, kindly loaned for the purpose.

Mr. S. McDowell, residence phone 200, will have charge of registration for Blairmore and Frank. While appeal is made for a goodly number of volunteers, it is advisable that nine workers on the afternoon shift that day should not make application.

An office will be opened in Fumagalli's Red Trail garage (recently used by Victory Loan) from 6.30 to 8.30 p.m. for enquiries; also an office at Frank.

This appeal is very urgent and a good response is expected.

Word was received Wednesday that PO Johnny Yanota, with the RAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yanota, of Blairmore, was missing in action in India on November 9th.

Between 400 and 500 Canadian soldiers from overseas will be in Canada on leave before Christmas, it is announced. They will have 30 clear days in Canada.

FRANK OLDTIMER PASSES

The death occurred at Frank on Saturday last of Mrs. Teresa Andel. Mrs. Andel had resided in Frank for a great many years, practically since the slide. Her husband predeceased her a few years ago. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. V. McDougall, of Blairmore, and Mrs. N. Oswald, of Castlegar, BC.

The remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery in Blairmore on Tuesday forenoon, following service conducted at St. Anne's church by Rev. Dean M. A. Harrington.

MRS. HENRY ZAK PASSES

The death occurred in a Pincher Creek hospital on Wednesday forenoon of Mary, beloved wife of Mr. Henry Zak, of Blairmore, following a lengthy illness.

The late Mrs. Zak was in her forty-fifth year. Born at Maria, Ratchits, Oncholoslovakia, in 1900, she came to Canada with her parents thirty-four years ago, and to Frank, Alberta, seven years later. Her maiden name was Mary Vysohlid. She is survived by her husband; two sons, Henry and Joe; one sister and two brothers.

Funeral service will be held at the family home, Blairmore, on Sunday afternoon next at 3.30, and the remains will be laid to rest in Blairmore union cemetery.

NOTICE TO EMPLOYERS AND THEIR MALE EMPLOYEES— Including Farmers

By an order signed on August 15th, 1944, by the undersigned Minister of Labour under authority of National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, 1944:

1. Commencing August 22nd, 1944, every employer is required to check the documents held by each newly engaged male employee, within 7 days of the employee's engagement, to determine if such employee possesses documents to show that he is in good standing under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, 1944 (that is, in relation to the Military Call-up).
2. Every employer must report on Schedule 9 to the Registrar for his Mobilization Division, concerning any employee found not to possess documents as referred to.
3. Every employer is required similarly to check the documents held by each male employee now working for him, whose documents he has not checked before, and to report to the Registrar for his Mobilization Division at once on any such employee found not to possess documents as referred to.
4. Any male employee here referred to, is required by the Regulations to present his documents to his employer for purposes of inspection.
5. FOR THIS PURPOSE "EMPLOYER" INCLUDES ALSO ANY FARMER OPERATING A FARM, WHO HAS A MALE PERSON WORKING FOR HIM.
6. Penalties are provided for any employer or male employee who fails to comply with these Regulations.

By an earlier order, employers were required to check the documents held by their male employees, and to report by May 1st, 1944, on doubtful cases as well as cases where employees did not possess documents.

Employers are asked to remember that they do not report on men who do possess the necessary documents—only on those who fail to present documents for examination, or where there is doubt that the document presented actually proves good standing.

The employers of Canada, including farmers, co-operated very satisfactorily on the first check, made up to May 1st, last. This co-operation was decidedly helpful, and is very much appreciated. Further co-operation is now earnestly requested.

Schedule 9, for reporting to the Registrar, and details as to documents which prove good standing, are available through the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office.

Farmers not needed on the farm during the winter, who answer the urgent call for winter workers in other essential industries, will be given a continuance of postponement of military training while away from the farm.

Health And Education

"A NATION'S HEALTH IS A NATION'S WEALTH" is a familiar slogan which has also been proven to be a fundamental truth. Early in the war, it was realized that health was of the greatest importance in obtaining the maximum efficiency both in the armed forces and in industry. Consequently there was a general awakening to the problems of public health and nutrition. Since that time much has been done to stimulate public interest in these subjects, some parts of Canada being much in advance of others in this field. The Western Provinces have always been well in the lead in matters of health and have achieved splendid results in the control of tuberculosis, which represents only one line of endeavour. Similar progress has been made in other branches of public health and there is evidence that there is to be continued advancement in this direction.

Many Facilities Provided Here

In Canada there are many facilities for the protection of public health and for education in this important subject. Each municipal and provincial government has a public health department, and in addition to these there are the services of the Department of Pensions and National Health in the Dominion Government. All these agencies have on their staffs, workers trained to deal with health problems, and they make a valuable contribution to the welfare of the nation. It is apparent, however, that there is still much to be done if we are to attain to the high standard of health which should be possible to a country such as this. In a recent survey report on the chief educational needs in the Dominion, issued by the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association, it was suggested that the schools might extend the part they now play in maintaining and advancing public health.

Schools Could Extend Program

It is granted, in the report, that in almost all schools there is a program of health education and that there is usually a generous time allowance for such studies. It suggests, however, that this training is not always put into practice and that further supervision and instruction is needed to secure satisfactory results. Poorly ventilated and badly constructed school buildings in many districts contribute to a low standard of health among the pupils. In addition, adequate nutrition, so essential to the development of alert minds as well as sound bodies, is often found lacking among school children. This may be due to ignorance of nutritional values in the home, or to inability on the part of parents to provide the necessary foods. The schools could assist in these circumstances through education and by the provision of wholesome school lunches. Dental care for children is another important branch of health which could be given greater stimulus in many schools according to the opinion of those educationalists who prepared the report. Many communities are well advanced in all these lines, but those who are not, could look forward to extending the services of their schools towards a higher standard of public health.

If Award Means Anything London Has Earned One

According to an unconfirmed report, the mayors of several British cities headed by the Lord Provost of Edinburgh have suggested that the George Cross be awarded to the City of London, as that decoration was given the Island of Malta for its gallant resistance to a month of constant air attack and near-starvation.

No suggested recognition of gallantry in war could meet with more immediate and general approval than this. Almost from the first days of the war, London has been "in it" to a greater extent than any other city in the empire, and from the first days of the war until today the magnificent courage of London has been an inspiration, not only to all other British cities but to the whole world. From the blitz of 1940-41 to the later visitation of the robot bomb, London has "taken it" with a combination of wry-licked humor and grim fortitude that has stiffened the courage of every one of us.

The George Cross? London should have a dozen George Crosses if a dozen meant more than one. Every city in the Commonwealth would welcome the chance of participating in some way, if such were possible, in an expression of the warmest admiration of the magnificent deed of London in the dark days that are passing now.—Montreal Star.

Our New Canadians

Sympathy And Understanding Can Smooth Way For Soldier's Wives

They (British-born wives of Canadian soldiers) are here and we hope here for life. They are accepted as belonging to us now, new members of our community and gradually to become Canadians in thought and outlook, as already they are in the eyes of the law. We must not expect the settling down process to be entirely without its difficulties, but if we now follow up the welcome with tactful and cordial extension of the aid offered to them, we may be able to help them over the period of adjustment. They come with customs and ideas that are fundamentally the same as our own, but differing in little details. Let us remember how trifles are apt to assume terrible importance, especially under the influence of perfectly natural homesickness. Sympathy and understanding can smooth the path of these new Canadians.—Saint John Telegraph-Journal.

Key To Bastille

Original Key Sent To America In The Early Days

One of the most interesting incidents in the General's stay, was his visit to the Washington Museum where he was shown the original key of the Bastille. This relic was sent to America in the early days of the nineteenth century by the Municipality of Paris. In the course of his tour of inspection, the General placed a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, which stands in the Arlington National Cemetery, and paid a visit of polite homage to the tomb of Lafayette.

He also called upon General Pershing, who commanded the American armies in France during the last war.—Tricolour, London.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Must I surrender ration coupons when buying frozen fruit?

A.—Frozen fruit is not rationed, and you will not have to surrender any of your preserved coupons.

Q.—I think I am paying more than the going price for beef. Is there any way while I am in a store that I could check this?

A.—Yes, all stores selling meats must display a chart showing the various cuts of beef, lamb and veal and the price of each cut per pound. If you are still in doubt as to whether or not the price you are paying is too high have your butcher show you the type of cut and the price per pound on your bill and report this to the foods division of your Wartime Prices and Trade Board office. The matter will be investigated for you.

Q.—Permission has been given me to start up in a business from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. I believe I have to have prices set on the merchandise I am going to buy. Is this right?

A.—Maximum selling prices in some cases are set on to you by the supplier from whom you buy your merchandise. In other cases they are not. If the latter happens, you had better consult the office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and they will advise you what to do, and if the setting of ceiling prices is necessary they will give you the necessary information.

Q.—Would you please send me a copy of your booklet "Remake Wrinkles"? I am mostly interested in children's clothing.

A.—Yes, "Remake Wrinkles" has been sent to you. It's easy to convert children's clothes from discarded grown-up garments if you know the short cuts. Any woman can quickly learn to make her children's clothing smart and good-looking. "Remake Wrinkles" contains many suggestions and ideas for remodelling clothes for all the family.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumer's News" or the Blue Book (the book in which you keep track of your selling prices) mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Rivets In Superfortress Not Affected By Heat Or Cold

The stifling heat over airfields in the interior of China or the sub-zero temperatures of the stratosphere will not undo the "seams" of the B-29 Superfortress.

Each of the 1,100,000 rivets which play vital roles in "stitching" one Superfort together goes through a commando-like course before it is eligible to become a part of the great plane.

Boeing Aircraft Co., engineers first heat-treat the rivets in a terrifically hot salt bath. Then they are dunked in icy water and soaked in a bath of alcohol methanol.

Huge freezing cabinets serve as central "banks" for the rivets, which are parceled out to refrigerating substations in the various Boeing shops for use by riveters.

If the parts are needed in the various Boeing branch plants throughout Washington, the lowly rivets are packed royally in dry ice and rushed by truck from the main Seattle plants.

After this stiff training the rivets in the completed Superforts are tough, hard, and indifferent to climatic changes.

SERVICE EXTENDED

Postal service to most areas of France now has been extended to include private and business letters not exceeding one ounce weight. Business letters, however, are limited to those ascertaining facts or exchanging information. No actual trading is permitted. No registration, air mail, money order or parcel post service to France is yet available.

A Word of CAUTION

Radio batteries and flashlight batteries are scarce because so many are being used for war purposes. Good batteries are vital to victory, so conserve the ones you have—make them last longer by using, sparingly.

Will Be Great Help

Television Is Seen As New Aid In Detecting Crime

Many new and effective law enforcement methods will be used after World War II, according to Frank J. Wilson, chief of the U.S. secret service.

Wilson, in an address before the International Association of Chiefs of Police, said: "New postwar crime problems will face the nation, and criminals will emerge with new tricks for cheating the public. But the new tricks will not be confined in the underworld."

Pointing out that a few years ago prominent police officials thought the two-way radio, telephones in police cars "invaluable," Wilson said that tomorrow it will be television which will help us stop the crook.

"With television," he said, "we will be able to flash many pictures of fleeing persons or dangerous criminals, or expose the tricks of criminals on television screens in the living rooms of millions of people at the same instant."

Furthermore, he asserted, a city police department can set up television cameras at dangerous highway intersections and bring serious traffic problems into the homes of the people to teach them to walk and drive with care.

"A television screen in every home where there is now a radio can do more than anything else to encourage the public to give the police active support in reducing juvenile delinquency and preventing robbery, burglary and other serious crimes," he said.

A New Assignment

Is Being Mapped Out In India For Canada's Airmen

A new assignment for Canada's army is being mapped out in India where two transport squadrons are being made up from among Canadians now serving in that theatre with the Royal Air Force. While the reorganization to put the Canadians together may mean little or nothing as far as the immediate operational scheme is concerned, it is a recognition which their fighting men have wanted in nearly every phase of combat. Just what the R.C.A.F. is doing, as such, occupies in the Far East at the moment is veiled by the secrecy which necessarily accompanies the intensification of action there. For a long time, however, there was an important R.C.A.F. squadron flying out of strategic Ceylon. Scattered throughout the India-Burma theatre R.C.A.F. men serving with the R.A.F. have been in the thick of the battle for nearly three years, in fighter, bomber and transport services. When the time comes for a major diversion of some of the R.C.A.F.'s hard-hitting squadrons from the European theatre, the tropic-fitted nucleus for a new Canadian command group will be ready.—Montreal Star.

Coarse Grains

Farmers Should Arrange For Supplies As Soon As Possible

Because coarse grains will likely be moved out of the head of the lakes as soon as shipping restrictions are removed by the Wheat Board, Saskatchewan farmers who depend on the purchase of feed grains for their livestock, have been advised in a statement by Hon. L. P. McInnis, minister of agriculture, to get their requirements as soon as possible. Mr. McInnis added that all farmers should assure themselves of ample supplies of feed grains until the next crop is harvested. Wheat and flax shipments have been given preference over oats and barley, with the supply of such grains at the lake head sufficient for needs, and at present ceiling prices there is no gain to elevator companies in holding coarse grains in store.

SEE BIG DEMAND FOR FOOD

Russia will need food from the United States for about three years after the European war ends and Great Britain will need continued food imports from the United States after the war, Lt.-Col. Ralph W. Olmsted, deputy war food administrator, told a press conference at Washington.

Grain Moving Into Market At A High Rate

REGINA—Canadian grains are being absorbed into the market at the rate of 50 million bushels per month, indicating a grain disappearance for the present crop year of 600 million bushels, George McIvor, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board, told delegates in session at the 29th annual meeting of Saskatchewan Co-operative Producers Limited here.

He stated that for the first three months of the crop year 1943-44 the railways moved 132 million bushels of grain out of country elevators, but in spite of this movement there was still a critical situation at the lake-head because of the inability to get sufficient grain down to the terminals before navigation closes, to meet the winter demand.

Mr. McIvor remarked that there would be insufficient wheat in Australia to fill requirements in the Pacific area, due to severe drought, and as a result it was not unlikely that Canadian wheat would have to move to the far east to supplement Australian supplies, and that such need would probably be great in India.

While this indicated an increased market for Canadian wheat, Mr. McIvor warned that it could not be assumed the present high demand for Canadian wheat would continue.

He said that for the crop year 1943-44 the United States took 100 million bushels of Canadian wheat and is still taking Canadian wheat. "We do not know the quantity of wheat that the Americans will require in 1944-45 but to maintain the same volume of exports as last year, we will have to have compensating markets in Europe and elsewhere for any reduction in United States imports," he said.

CONVOY ATTACKED

Flotilla Of Canadian Torpedo Boats Destroys German Ship

A BRITISH PORT—A large German merchant vessel was destroyed and an E-boat set afire by the 24th Canadian flotilla of motor torpedo boats in a blazing 10-hour action off the Netherlands coast recently, it was announced.

A heavily-escorted German convoy was sighted off the hook of Holland just after dark on Nov. 1 by a flotilla unit. A 3,000-ton merchant vessel and a barge towed by a tug was escorted by several trawlers, armed coasters, four minesweepers and eight E-boats.

During the action the Canadian force suffered only two casualties. After several exchanges of gun fire the convoy turned and fled.

LOSSES HEAVY

Germans Were Hit Hard In Battle For Aegean Sea

ALLIED MEDITERRANEAN HEADQUARTERS.—The Germans lost more than 100,000 tons of shipping in the battle for control of the Aegean sea which the Allies have won.

An official statement on the operations said that what little remained of the German navy in that area was so weak and demoralized that the Allied navies moved into the Aegean with the same freedom with which they patrolled the whole Mediterranean.

A year ago it was estimated that the German effective tonnage in major shipping in these waters was more than 110,000 tons.

SETS NEW RECORD

Lancaster Cuts Time For Trip From Montreal To Britain

MONTREAL.—A "trans-Atlantic record of 10 hours and 13 minutes, one hour and one minute less than the previous one set last January" was chalked up by a Trans-Canada Airlines Lancaster flying non-stop from here to Britain.

The aircraft was piloted by Capt. G. B. Lethian.

There were no passengers aboard the record-setting Lancaster but the aircraft was carrying 6,031 pounds of mail for members of Canadian armed forces overseas and 2,036 pounds of priority freight.

Important Oil Strike Reported In Alberta Area

EDMONTON.—Provincial government officials here said an oil strike of commercial proportions has been made in Devonian limestone level at the Princess No. 8 well in southern Alberta. Officials said that in the last four weeks the well has produced 4,824 barrels of oil and production is estimated to be between 200 and 250 barrels a day.

J. L. Irwin, provincial oil authority, said that "discovery of commercial oil in the Devonian limestone will open a new chapter for prairie oil development. Filling activity in the area has been particularly active and new development on an enlarged scale will surely follow."

Encouraged by the California Standard strike at Princess, Alberta, 125 miles southeast of Calgary and about 70 miles from the Saskatchewan border, the Imperial Oil Co. has taken a block of 90,000 acres in that area. The land was formerly held but temporarily released due to discouraging results of previous drilling.

Again the significance of a producing well in the Devonian limestone, which underlies the western Canadian plains, is seen as a spur to oil development activities on a large scale. The Princess No. 8 well was declared to be capable of producing 200 to 250 barrels per day through a small opening. The restriction at this stage is necessary due to the danger of drawing water.

The well is rumored to be capable of 1,000 barrels per day.

The first point of importance is that the well is located on a structure, a supposed oil reservoir, and this would indicate not one well, but a field.

This is one small island within a tremendous territory which is underlain by Devonian rock, in nearly all of Alberta, the southwest two-thirds of Saskatchewan, and the southwest corner of Manitoba.

If there is one such island the chances are many hundreds to one that there are more, for all these sediments were laid down during the same prehistoric time by the same prehistoric sea.

This does not mean to say that a well can be sunk anywhere and be expected to produce. In order to have an accumulation of oil the rock reservoirs must be porous, and zones of porosity thousands of feet below the surface are extremely difficult to discover.

There can hardly be any doubt that they exist. The job is now to find them and to find them in such structures that favor oil accumulation.

GERMAN CASUALTIES

Over Two Million Reported In The Last Six Months

NEW YORK.—Germany has suffered at least 2,004,090 casualties in the last half year, official statements from the eastern, western and southern fronts disclosed. Actual enemy losses may be a great deal higher. Official Allied sources listed these German casualties between May and November: Russia, 790,000; western front, 1,060,090; Italy, 194,000; total, 2,044,090.

BRITAIN PLEASED

LONDON.—Premier Stalin's reference to Japan as an aggressor nation in his Moscow speech was welcomed in some quarters here as an indication of possible Russian aid in the war in the Far East when Germany is defeated.

Civil Aviation Control Might Preserve Peace

CHICAGO.—Viscount Swinton, leader of the British delegation injected the problem of controlling civil aviation in order to preserve future world peace squarely into the United Nations civil aviation conference by taking issue at a press conference with a previous statement by A. A. Berle, leader of the American delegation.

Lord Swinton said, a bomber cannot capture a city, but an airborne division can. He said the German Ju 52's which had carried troops to capture key points in Holland in 1940 were transport planes of commercial type. So were the DC's which carried British Chindit troops into Burma jungles and which carried the British 2nd army on the spectacular but unsuccessful effort to take Arnhem earlier this year.

"That's the security point," he said, explaining why the British delegation firmly believed security aspects of aviation must be dealt with here. He said, "Everyone knows armies of the future will be carried by air. That's the basis of the anxiety of so many people with security aspects of civil aviation." By implication Lord Swinton's statement grouped European nations and others represented here with the British demand for consideration of security.

Many of them in opening statements had mentioned their desire for action on controlling air power in future to preserve the security of nations, and the Canadian plan, which has received wide notice, specified that future international air traffic arrangements should be subject to a world security system such as the Dumbarton Oaks plan.

NEW INDUSTRY

GEORGETOWN.—British Guiana is reported to be in a favorable position for building up a profitable chewing gum industry. The annual yield of the Rupunni forests is estimated at 20,000 pounds of latex, a substitute for chicle.

She Has A Kiss For Him

When Prime Minister Winston Churchill returned home after his recent conference with Marshal Joseph Stalin in Moscow, Mrs. Churchill was on hand to meet him. They were about to exchange a kiss of greeting when the photographer politely turned away.

Russian Delegation Not Attending Parley

Here is the Russian delegation which was sent to the international aviation conference in Chicago, photographed on its arrival from Moscow at headquarters of the Alaskan division, air transport command, A.A.P., Edmonton, Alta. In a last-minute shift of intention, the Soviet government announced that Russia would not participate in the conference. The reason given is that nations hostile to the Soviet Union have been invited to participate. Left to right in above group are: Maj.-Gen. A. I. Perminov; Maj.-Gen. I. M. Maravov; Maj.-Gen. P. B. Buzanin; N. V. Novikov, charge d'affaires of Soviet embassy in Washington; Lt.-Gen. Alexander A. Arsenyevich and Lt.-Col. M. I. Mokosin.

He is a former resident of Halifax, Ottawa and Regina, and his wife at present lives at Ketchikan, N.S. The Humblerstone, most up-to-date of anti-submarine vessels, is one of 16 corvettes being built for the Royal Canadian Navy in the United Kingdom while Canadian shipyards turn out 18 Algerine minesweepers for the Royal Navy.

WORKERS NEEDED

Defence Minister Wants More Canadian Women For Shell-Making

OTTAWA.—Defence Minister McNaughton appealed for more Canadian women to take places in the shell filling and assembling plants of Canada's war industries.

Addressing a meeting of the Ottawa command of the Canadian Legion, Gen. McNaughton stressed the need of increasing the output of munitions for the men overseas, and added:

"Much of the work in the filling and assembly plants, and even in the factories where the shells are produced, can best be done by women. They handle the delicate gear with great precision and they have a natural aptitude for many of the operations. We must admit that in this they are superior to us."

"So what now is required is that more women come forward to undertake this vital work and I appeal to all who can to do so. To those who do I would say you can take the utmost satisfaction in the work you do and its contribution to saving the lives of our men."

TORPEDO MISSED

Enemy Submarine Failed To Hit Allied Troopship In Pacific

OTTAWA.—An attack on an Allied troopship in the Pacific by an enemy submarine which "narrowly missed" with a torpedo was revealed by defence headquarters.

Brief mention of the attack was made in a press release which told of the "invasion" of a New Guinea port by three Canadian army special experts sent to the Antipodes to teach Australians the handling of "temperamental" Canadian equipment.

All in their early 20's, the three Canadians are WO's Leslie M. Harvey of Rivers, Man., Terry Haines of Toronto and Dave Blackmore of Cardston, Alta., son of Social Credit leader Blackmore. They were aboard the troopship which was attacked.

WANT PENSION PLAN

TORONTO.—A contributory pension plan throughout the nation, holidays with pay for all classes of labor, labor representation in parliament not tied to any political party, and establishment of new communities, were called for by the newly appointed chairman of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Howard B. Chase, speaking to the Canadian club here.

A League To Maintain Peace And Security

NEW YORK.—President Roosevelt now faces the troubled future of United States domestic and foreign problems freshly armed with an unmistakable expression of his people's confidence in his leadership for another four years.

Related returns added to the importance of his victory over the Republican candidate, Gov. Dewey of New York, in the presidential elections.

It is expected the president will at once set in motion plans for an early meeting with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin to iron out the unfinished details of the Dumbarton Oaks proposals for a world security organization.

This is necessary as a preliminary to the United Nations conference the American government proposes to call early in 1945 in an effort to bring into being as soon as possible the "United Nations" league for peace and security.

In these activities it is considered probable that Mr. Roosevelt will seek and win the co-operation of Gov. Dewey, who is expected to be no less magnanimous than the late Wendell Willkie who, when defeated by the president in 1940 declared that he was "my president" and proceeded to support the Roosevelt efforts to organize the United States for victory.

SUPPLIES FOR GREECE

Almost 3,000 Tons Are Being Unloaded A Day

LONDON.—Foreign Secretary Eden reported to the House of Commons that the Greek port of Piraeus has "been got to work again, in part at least" and said this was due to "the most strenuous efforts by the Royal Navy and the Royal Engineers and of the civilian population in the Piraeus."

"By the end of October we had reached a figure of supplies unloaded in Piraeus of almost 3,000 tons a day," he told the house in a report on his visit to Greece.

The foreign secretary informed the house, too, that he did not believe "informed opinion is fully understood how complete, how mercurial, how dastardly has been the devastation inflicted by the German armies in Allied lands as they are compelled to withdraw."

is a family affair ...

A laughing couple, dodging showers of rice ... fireworks ... garden ... chubby babies ...

These are scenes we know and like, because they're part of our lives ... because they spell happiness ... contentment.

But we know that these things don't "just happen." They have to be worked for, lived for. Protected, too, because of ever-present dangers which may spoil them.

Veneral Disease is a spoiler. In a cold, relentless way it can kill infants, rob the home of its breadwinner, cripple, destroy. These are not mere possibilities. THEY HAPPEN ... RIGHT HERE IN CANADA!

But, these things should never happen. They can be prevented.

Young men and women can safeguard their future happiness together by making sure before marriage that V.D. will not blight their plans. A medical examination, including a blood test for syphilis, is a protection no couple can afford to pass up.

The expectant mother, too, may know for sure that her baby will be all she dreamed of. Syphilis in the expectant mother rarely shows outward signs, and it is no respecter of persons. An early check-up by her doctor, including a blood test, is a most essential, yet simple, first step in protecting her baby's health.

Nor must the breadwinner neglect his part. The security of the home depends upon his ability to work regularly and efficiently. Unsuspected syphilis, striking in middle life, may make the head of the home unable to provide for his family. It is wise to KNOW FOR SURE in time. Industrial medical examinations should include a routine confidential blood test.

A blood test should not be looked upon as something unusual. It should be regarded for what it is ... a normal safeguard of health, security and happiness.

The worst inflation came AFTER the war the last time ... to be followed by disastrous deflation, unemployment and confusion. For Canada to manage successfully the change back to peace, maintain employment, and meet the world's competition ... we must continue to have stable economic conditions. To protect the individual from rising costs of living and later unemployment we must continue to prevent inflation.

To prevent a repetition of the conditions following the last war

PRICE CONTROL MUST BE MAINTAINED

AS LONG AS INFLATION THREATENS US:

This can only be done if production is efficient and economical, costs are kept down and consumers refuse to pay more than ceiling prices.

THIS IS ONE OF A SERIES ISSUED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA TO EMPHASIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF PREVENTING A FURTHER RISE IN THE COST OF LIVING NOW, AND DEFLATION LATER

One person can start it!

When one person demands more for goods or services he compels others to do the same and Price Control goes out the window.

Lesson: Micah 4:1-5; Mark 12:13-17; Romans 13:8-10; 1 Peter 2:17-18.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 103:1-5, 8-13.

Explanations and Comments

Our Debt to God was the question, Mark 12:13-17. Pharisees and Herodians were naturally hostile parties. The Herodians were a small party who were partisans of Herod, and they were cordially hated by most Pharisees. The Pharisees, however, in their desire to get Jesus into trouble with the Roman government, and together they concocted a plot. Each morning of that last week of Jesus' life they met him with questions which they hoped would "catch him in talk."

The man whom the pharisees sent to Jesus on Tuesday that week prefaced his remarks by saying in effect that the question about to be propounded was a dangerous one to answer, but they knew he was not afraid of consequences. Thus they would flatter him and put him off his guard.

"Is it lawful for thee to tribute unto Caesar, or not?" was the question. The tribute that Rome exacted was the poll tax. If Jesus said "yes," he would bitterly antagonize the people, and if he said "no," they could accuse him of treason to the Roman government. And two days later they did falsely declare to Pilate, that "We found this man perverting our nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar." Luke 23:2.

"Why make ye trial of me?" Jesus said to them, well knowing their hypocrisy, the purpose of their flattery introductory words, the evil of their intent. "Bring me a denarius," he then demanded, and they brought it to him. "Whose is the image and superscription?" he asked, and they replied, "Caesar's." Then Jesus said, "Render, give back; the coin came from Caesar, it stood for Rome's service to the people, as well as for Rome's power and authority, and they owed something in return. 'If a king's coin is current in a country,' said the Talmud, 'the men of that country do thereby evidence that they acknowledge him for their lord.' The right of coinage involved the right of taxation."

Then Jesus added "and unto God the things that are God's." Our Debt to Humanity, Romans 13:8-10. "Owe no man anything," Paul counsels, and then makes one all-inclusive exception to this rule, "save to love one another; for he that loveth his neighbor hath fulfilled the law." The Greek word translated "neighbor" is given in the margin of the Bible as "the other." Love is a debt that we owe to humanity.

OUT FOR REVENGE

In a military hospital a visitor saw a badly wounded soldier from one of the Irish regiments. "When are you going to send the man home?" he asked.

"He ain't going home," said the orderly. "He's going back to the front."

"Back to the front," exclaimed the visitor. "But he's in awful shape." "Yes," replied the orderly, "and he thinks he knows who does it."

Giving Eye To A Check-Up

The health of their employees is the increasing concern of many Canadian employers who have set up medical departments in charge of a physician or registered nurse. Out of six industries in one town, employing from 200 to 700 workers, only one employed a nurse, but a part-time basis, at the beginning of the war. Today these six plants have twelve nurses and three doctors on their payrolls. In the shell filling plant medical department, shown in the picture above, a registered nurse is giving one of the office workers a routine eye check.

TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

THE ART OF LIVING

Modern youth is being fully trained for almost everything except for living, specifically social living. It is stated by Joseph Lichstein in an article in the current issue of New Advance, national Canadian youth magazine. Mr. Lichstein is assistant director, Social Hygiene Division, Health League of Canada.

In his article entitled "Does High School Education Prepare You for Marriage?" Mr. Lichstein, who also is a former chairman of the national health committee of the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce, comments on the emphatic "No" answer given in a recent survey among young Canadians as to whether the high schools are doing a good job in preparing people for marriage.

"Thus the schools are indicted by those most directly concerned, the students, for their failure to provide proper instruction in the most vital field of life, that of social relationships," he says. "Educational administrators as well as parents, teachers and church leaders must assume their share of responsibility for the widespread failure to prepare youth, the trustees of posterity, and the leaders of tomorrow for the greatest and finest of all arts—the art of living."

Gigantic Repair Task

Many Houses Damaged By Enemy Action In London Area

London has many houses which have been damaged by enemy action. For its area it constitutes the biggest repair problem in the country.

But a damaged house out of commission is a problem wherever it stands—in London, or Dover, or Southampton, or Liverpool or Sheffield, or in some village in Bomb Alley.

The job of getting houses restored to a condition in which people can live in them is a national one. It is the most urgent and immediate part of the whole housing problem of the nation.—London Express.

Navy Will Fight On

So German U-Boat Commander Told Cadets in Denmark

Reports reaching Stockholm of a speech by a U-boat commander named Bender to naval cadets at Esbjerg, Denmark, said he told them the German navy will arrange for Hitler to escape by submarine when final defeat comes, and that the navy would continue the fight for 10 years.

Bender said: "The German navy knows the world's oceans and has U-boat bases and hiding places in the remotest seas. We have accumulated in them supplies of all kinds—weapons, ammunition, concrete, tools and machines."

REG'LAR FELLERS—Getting Down To Details

A Great Traveller

Migration Of Arctic Tern Takes Bird

About 24,000 Miles

The champion traveller of the bird world is probably the Arctic tern, a small, white, gull-like bird.

Metal bands have been attached to the legs of nestlings in Labrador and the grown birds recaptured a few months later at the mouth of the Niger River in West Africa and in Natal on the Indian Ocean coast of South Africa—nearly 9,000 miles from Labrador.

And the Arctic tern is found in the Antarctic during our winter. It is well known as a seasonal migrant up and down the western seaboard of both Europe and Africa.

From this it has been inferred that this species migrates from Arctic America across the North Atlantic to Europe, thence down the coast past Africa to the Antarctic Ocean, and back up the same route the following Spring—a distance, in all, of about 24,000 miles, or almost equivalent to the total circumference of the earth.—London Express.

Tomato plants were first cultivated in Europe on the coasts of Spain and Portugal about 1585.

Has Been Success

New Emergency Runway Material

Announced By Air Force Engineers

Air Force engineers were glad to announce that they had a new emergency runway material with the essential advantages of steel mats.

It consists of a layer of cloth between two layers of tar-coated paper. It can be carried in one-lenth the airplane space and laid, by machine, almost twice as fast.

Spread over a rolled earth surface, the durable, water-repellent covering sustains the heat and shock of landings with little damage, bogs down only when sub-surface moisture is extreme.

Developed by the Royal Canadian Engineers and improved by U.S. engineers, PBS was tried for the first time by the 9th Air Force last summer, became a vital factor in the remarkable speed of air supply in France.

By Sept. 1 it had been used successfully on some 30 forward fighter and transport fields.

With one exception, all woods burn better, the older and drier they are. Only the ash makes better fuel when burned green.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Red Is For Love

— By —
CLIFFORD L. ALDERMAN

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

They were wearing red again this season: Fifth Avenue was flaunting it, bright and brave and challenging, and Janet was wearing it as Martin came face to face with her on the avenue, just as she had that night . . . No, time and distance hadn't healed the old wound. It was possible to escape for a while from memories; down out the heart's quiet insistence with bluster. But this was no memory; this was reality. This was Janet.

Martin's heart was saying, "You love her more than you ever did. You can't change that. Not even though you lost her and she married Stewart."

"You've come back, Martin." He might have been gone two weeks instead of two years, the way she said it, but the color had drained from her face.

He nodded. "Three days ago. It's strange, running into you like this, out of all the millions. How's how's Stewart?"

"Oh, he's fine. They've made him assistant sales manager. He's awfully happy about it."

"Glad to hear it. Give him my regards, won't you?" There were many things he would have liked to know but he said nothing of them. She must be happy with Stewart; she looked so beautiful. Janet's eyes were full of unspoken questions, too, but all she said was, "It's been a long time, hasn't it, Martin?"

It didn't seem long. . . . They had been roommates at college. Martin Wood and Stewart Conway. In New York, after graduation, Martin went to work with a large manufacturing concern and Stewart took a job as a salesman. They leased an apartment in Jackson Heights and bought an assortment of furniture that would have given an interior decorator site.

Life was extremely pleasant. Women were extra-curricular; Stewart knew a lot of them—blondes, mostly, light-headed in more ways than one—but they were occasional playthings, not to be taken seriously.

That was before Ann and Janet Ryder moved into the apartment across the courtyard and complicated things. Stewart studied them critically from the living-room window for some time before he asked, "Do these old eyes deceive me or are they good looking?"

"You can't tell from here, Stew."

"No, but you can from there. Stop sitting like a vegetable and let's go."

They were all good friends in no time. Stewart had a streamlined approach that breezed past formalities.

It was not hard to tell that Ann and Janet were sisters. They looked somewhat alike and both were pretty. But for Martin there was never anyone but Janet from the first. She had blue-violet eyes, and it took just one smiling glance from them to seal the doom of the house of Conway and Wood. Janet was in Martin's heart and she never left it.

The trouble was that Stewart seemed to feel the same way. That made Martin's chances look pretty hopeless. Stewart had to fight women off. They tried to read highly improbable messages of their own devising into his engaging gray eyes, but his hair was just unruly enough to make their fingers itch to fool with it and his grin was pleasant to remember. He and Janet were volleying wisecracks before they had known each other five minutes.

Ann was quieter. She had a better job than her sister and could buy more clothes and better ones—Janet invariably had to borrow from Ann—yet it was Janet who always stood out in a crowd. Martin never told Stewart that he loved Janet, nor did Stewart mention how he felt, but there was a growing tension between them. The old camaraderie was gone.

One day when Stewart was out of town Martin called Janet and made a date for that evening. Janet vetoed it. It deepened the blue-violet of her eyes to an intensity that left Martin breathless and a little shy, but it put new courage into his heart, too. He almost took her in his arms when he said good night. He felt a quiet, positive certainty that her love was his for the taking.

The next day Channing, vice-president of the export division, called him in. "You want to go to Rio as assistant manager? You'll have to sail Friday."

Before he was fairly out of Channing's office, Martin knew he was going to ask Janet to marry him and go with him to Rio. It was but when he got home. From the living room he looked at the lighted apartment across the court. A girl in red was being held very close to Stewart's arms. There was no need to look again. . . . that dress. . . .

Martin stumbled out, sick and bewildered. Why hadn't he known it was foolish to think. . . .

Stewart found the note after Martin had sailed. "Dear Stew—You off for Rio. Best wishes for happiness to both of you. Please don't write—I want to forget. "Martin".

Janet said now, "Oh, here's my Martin. It's been—good to see you, Martin. Good-bye."

Martin walked on, watching the bus. He could see Janet on its top deck—a bright, brave little figure in red. The bus stopped at the next corner and Janet stepped off. "I—just thought I'd rather walk," she said.

Martin drew a dime out of his pocket and handed it to her. Janet blushed. "Thanks as usual," she confessed. "I forgot—I spent my last cent on the dress. I love red. You see, I haven't changed, Martin. Only now I have to buy all my things instead of borrowing Ann's."

A desperate hand gripped Martin. He said, "Do you remember the red dress you wore that night, Janet?"

Janet smiled. "Ann had just bought that dress. I borrowed it, and was Ann mad! She was planning to wear it the next night."

As the taxicab driver who deposited Martin and Janet at the house where Stewart and Ann lived summed it up: "This guy thinks this dress marries his pal and all the sins it's her sin after his pal marries me? But everything is O.K. now."

A Bird Lover

The Passing Of Jack Miner Is A Sad Loss To Canada

Nature lovers and admirers of a delightful and kindly character will mourn the death of Jack Miner of Kingsville. Birds were his particular friends; he was their trusted host. Annually thousands of these aerial travellers stopped at his sanctuary for rest and refreshment. The Government, in 1916, set aside a large area about Jack Miner's home as a protected spot for migratory birds. His Christian character was evident in his "banding" with Scriptural verses some 32,000 birds that dropped in on him at his home.

While birds were his hobby, Jack Miner was a nature lover in the larger sense. He loved all wild things that move about; he loved the forest and loved all country scenes. He had a passion for flowers which was hereditary. Among the Miner family's possessions when they came from Ohio to Canada was a barrel of flower bulbs and shrubs, the cherished property of his mother, while young Jack's treasure was a cottontail rabbit.

This delightful character did not seek fame, but fame sought him. Without direct association with public life, he was among the best known men in North America, and was honored by some 20 societies. He could wear many decorations bestowed upon him in recognition of his work as a naturalist.

Why did so many people scattered throughout the continent honor Jack Miner? Because of his lovable disposition, his love of wild things, and his familiarity with Nature's secrets. His life was humble and serene, and he was happy, and hosts of kindred souls were made happy also by his services and the stories of his experiences so close to Nature. Edgar A. Guest expressed the thought of Jack Miner's innumerable friends when he wrote:

From pole to pole the widow has spread Jack Miner's fame; The youngest goose in Canada by now has learned his name. And so to old Jack Miner this simple thought I pen: He's better known in bird life than in the haunts of men.

Know Our Navy Minister

Germans Give Most Publicity In Press

To Angus Macdonald

If further proof were needed that the magnificent achievements of the Royal Canadian Navy have earned international recognition, it may be found in an interesting letter from an R.C.A.F. officer now a prisoner of war in Germany. Excerpts from which were published in this newspaper. F. L. Kingsley Brown writes that the German press shows a keen interest in Canadian naval affairs, and that Hon. Angus Macdonald receives more publicity in Germany than any other Canadian. Mr. Macdonald is pictured by a Berlin newspaper as working with quiet confidence and determination toward his goal.

Regarding his source, the picture is a true one, as most Canadians are well aware. The only detail lacking is the fact that Mr. Macdonald now believes his goal is practically reached, and his job finished. However, that detail does not detract from the picture as a whole; Canada's Navy Minister needed great powers of confidence and determination, to say nothing of ability, in order to reach that goal—Kingston Whig-Standard.

Doing Splendid Work

Canadian Red Cross Still Sending Food To War Prisoners

Since the commencement of packing in 1940, the plants of the Canadian Red Cross have packed 12,183,292 food parcels for British and Allied prisoners of war in enemy hands. Harold Leather, chairman of the Society's Prisoners of War Parcels Committee, told the Canadian Red Cross Council at a meeting in Toronto.

"From January 1st, 1944, to September 30th, the six plants located in Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal, Windsor, London and Winnipeg have packed 4,186,616 in the nine month period," he said. "Since the opening in 1940 this work has involved the expenditure of $28,000,000."

During the nine months of packing this year, he said that all plants had packed to capacity.

"During the heat of the summer the voluntary workers have turned out wonderfully well, and I feel that it is a great achievement of the women's organizations of Canada to have done such a splendid job," he declared.

The number of Canadians in all services and civilians in enemy hands is 8,150, according to a report made by Mrs. Jackson Cook, acting director of the Canadian Red Cross Enquiry Bureau in Ottawa.

"The Bureau has forwarded to the next-of-kin, in Canada only, of wounded soldiers, 6,000 'Red Cross Messages' for the period from August 1st to September 30th, with a higher number expected for October," she said. "These messages are sent one cent postage rate, and from letters on file are being received by the addressees with gratitude and as evidence of Red Cross service."

Barbed Wire

Canadian Firm Has Supplied Vast Quantities For Troops

Anyone who has ever tried to climb over barbed wire has a fairly intimate acquaintance with this type of fence. Soldiers know barbed wire even better, first in basic training, later on the battlefield. Yet, although it is a familiar sight to almost all Canadians, barbed wire had never been made on this continent in the form required by the armed forces.

This type is known as "concertina fencing," and as the name suggests it comes in big springy coils. A Canadian wire manufacturer undertook the task of supplying huge quantities of this "concertina fencing" to the armed services. The experiment was so successful that the firm has filed not only the requirements of Canada's armed forces and of Great Britain, but has been able to supply some 40,000 coils to the United States.

Sugar For Bees

New Form Of Sugar Permit Has Been Issued

A new form of beekeeper's sugar purchase permit has been issued by the Sugar Administrator of the War-time Prices and Trade Board, but procedure for obtaining supplies remains unchanged. A beekeeper who registers with the Board, but, once registered, he need not register again. To obtain sugar he must forward to the Provincial Apiarist for his province a statement giving his name and address, the number of colonies of bees, the period during which he expects to use the sugar, and the minimum quantity of sugar required.

The Provincial Apiarist then issues a sugar purchase permit, giving the beekeeper authority to buy not more than a specified quantity of sugar. On receipt of this authorization, the beekeeper completes another section of the permit and turns it over to his supplier.

Intricate Work Of Making Optical Glass For War Purposes

Before the war, most of the world's optical glass was produced in England, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

Today, the highly ground and polished glass used for telescopes, range finders and other high precision fire control instruments, is made in Canada.

The process for making optical glass is an intricate one. It requires the melting of glass in clay pots. This process takes some time and then the glass must be left to cool. When a pot of glass is finally cooled, the cracks irregularly into various shaped and sized pieces. These pieces form the first steps along the line towards telescope, periscope and other optical pieces.

The job of the optical instrument is as important one. Whether the battle is in the air, on the sea, or over the land, they are the gauge of distance and direction.

Color Blending

Care Should Be Taken In Mixing Your Own Paint Colors

Certain paint colors, depending on materials from far-flung parts of the world, are increasingly hard to get because of the difficulties in procuring foreign chemicals, paint dealers say, but the smart householder can turn the shortage to his advantage by mixing other colors to produce original effects.

Only one caution is needed—if you are blending your own colors, be sure you know exactly how much surface you plan to cover with the new color and make sufficient to do the job the first time. You'll never match it exactly on a second try. Similarly, if you have to stop, be sure to stop at a corner or at the end of a wall, not in the middle of a flat area.

Greens and yellows in particular are said to be in short supply in most stores. The paint industry has done a remarkable job in developing war-time substitutes for many of their former imports, but there are some things which just can't be duplicated. Some of the dyes used in certain paints are among the things which must wait for a restoration of world commerce.

The General Merchant of Canada points out in an article directed particularly at paint dealers, that much can be done to meet the shortage of certain colors by showing customers how to blend two or more of the available colors to get many beautiful pastel shades.

"Color blending is being recommended by a number of manufacturers to help the dealer greatly increase the color range available to either experienced or amateur painters," says the publication. "Both types of painters are interested in blending paints and securing unusual shades for both interior and exterior use."

SELECTED RECIPES

BROWN BUTTER WITH CHEESE

3 to 4 tablespoons melted butter
1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs
5 medium apples (tart)
1/4 cup corn syrup
1/4 cup sugar
1-10 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon or nutmeg (or both)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup grated cheese
1/2 to 1 1/2 cup water (depending on variety of apples)

Toes melted butter and bread crumbs together. Place about one-half cupful in the bottom of a 1 1/2 quart enameled casserole and cover with half of the apples (pared, cored and sliced), and half of the combined corn syrup, sugar, salt, cinnamon or nutmeg, lemon juice, cheese and water. Now put another layer of buttered crumbs over this (about 1/4 cupful) and top again with a layer of sliced apples. Then a layer of the combined mixture. Top all with the remaining buttered crumbs. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350-375 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes, then remove cover and bake until apples are tender (45 minutes or longer). Serve warm or chilled, with plain white milk or cream.

Refreshments for unexpected guests are really no problem at all if there are crackers on the pantry shelf. A special treat that hits the spot on winter evenings is hot chocolate served with toasted crackers and cheese. Only a thin slice of cheese is necessary to produce the desired flavor, and a topping of chopped olives makes it doubly tempting.

YOUTHFULNESS...

"the state or time of being young," defines the dictionary, and now is the time of being young. Youthfulness, beauty's most alluring ally, blended with the wizardry of the new Rayon Cropes, gives the magic answer to "What to Wear." Take a glimpse into the EATON Catalogue and see:

Skirts that will meet any blouse half way and pile up more service than any other costume in your wardrobe (Page 20). They make a deliberately youthful picture paired off with Blouses on Page 21.

Dresses with a young outlook... romantic short stories that accustom a narrow waistline, yet give a flattering fullness at the bust (Page 33).

Try matching a Cardigan Sweater (Page 33) with the skirt of these Dresses—you'll be delighted with the results.

Hats (Page 58) that meet the second glances they always get and show the optimism and youthful spirit of the women who wear them. You'll look as modern as the times in your off duty hours when you wear a jaunty little Sailor, or a fragile hat to emphasize a severe suit.
